A visit to the château du Haut-Koenigsbourg is an unforgettable experience, the highlight of any visit to the region of Alsace. This is all the more true because its geographical location in the centre of Alsace and the wide range of other tourist attractions nearby mean that it can be easily included as part of a larger tour. It's therefore no surprise that the château has nearly 520,000 visitors each year!

You can discover more about what the château has to offer by downloading practical information and details of activities for groups, school groups, youth groups and groups of disabled visitors.
